

Sombrero Marsh

An aerial photograph of a landscape featuring a large, light-colored, irregularly shaped area on the left labeled 'Sombrero Marsh'. To the right of the marsh is a large, flat, brownish area. Further to the right, there is a residential or commercial development with several buildings and parking lots. A path, indicated by green arrows and red square markers, starts near the marsh and leads towards the development. The path consists of four red square markers connected by green arrows, showing a sequence of steps or points along the way. The final point is labeled 'Basestation'.
